

USER AGREEMENTS

This User Agreement sets forth the terms and conditions between DaoFinity (hereinafter referred to as the “Platform”) and the user (hereinafter referred to as the “Client”). The use of the Platform services implies full acceptance of this document.

1. General Provisions

1.1. By creating an account, the Customer confirms that:

You are at least 18 years old and have the legal capacity to operate.
You are not a resident of countries where trading activity is prohibited.
He is not an employee of government institutions that could generate conflicts of interest.

1.2. The Platform has the right to modify this Agreement at any time, and it is the Customer’s responsibility to monitor updates.

1.3. The Platform may refuse to open an account or close a registration without the need for justification.

2. Customer Registration and Account

2.1. To access the services, the Customer must correctly complete the registration form, providing true information.

2.2. The Customer must keep their data updated and cannot share their login and password with third parties.

2.3. The Platform may require identity verification (KYC) before allowing withdrawals or other operations.

2.4. Each Customer may have only one active account. Duplicate accounts may be blocked.

DaoFinity

3. Deposits, Withdrawals and Transactions

3.1. The Client may deposit and withdraw funds only using the methods available on the Platform.

3.2. The Customer must use their own payment methods, prohibiting third-party transactions.

3.3. The Platform is not responsible for delays caused by banks, payment processors or blockchain.

3.4. Bonus withdrawal may be subject to minimum trading requirements.

3.5. All deposits and withdrawals must comply with Anti-Money Laundering (AML) rules.

4. Trading Activities

4.1. The Client understands that the financial market involves risks, and the Platform does not guarantee profits.

4.2. The Platform provides access to various assets, including Forex, Cryptocurrencies, Indices and Precious Metals.

4.3. Execution of orders may depend on market liquidity and price volatility.

4.4. The Client is responsible for all operations carried out in his/her account and cannot claim ignorance of the rules.

5. Security and Fraud Prevention

5.1. The Platform employs advanced security measures, such as data encryption and two-factor authentication (2FA).

5.2. The Customer must take steps to protect their login details and never share them with third parties.

5.3. In case of suspected fraud, the Platform may:

Temporarily block the Customer's account.

Request additional documentation for verification.

Report suspicious activity to regulatory authorities.

5.4. The Client may not use bots, arbitration systems, fraud or platform failures to obtain undue advantages.

DaoFinity

6. Account Termination Policy

6.1. The Customer may request the closure of his/her account at any time, provided there are no outstanding financial debts.

6.2. The Platform may suspend or terminate accounts that:

Use false information when registering.

Are associated with fraud or illegal activities.

Do not meet identity verification (KYC) requirements.

6.3. If the account is terminated due to violation of the terms, the Platform may retain available amounts to cover possible damages or irregularities.

7. Disclaimer

7.1. The Platform is not responsible for the Client's financial losses resulting from:

Financial market volatility.

User connection failures or external technical problems.

Bad investment decisions.

7.2. The Platform is also not responsible for decisions based on analyses, signals or educational materials provided within the website.

7.3. The Client understands that he/she may lose part or all of the invested capital and must operate responsibly.

8. Regional Regulation and Restrictions

8.1. The Platform does not provide services in countries where trading is prohibited, including the USA, Canada, the European Union, Hong Kong and other restricted territories.

8.2. Accounts identified as belonging to residents of restricted countries may be blocked without prior notice.

DaoFinity

9. Changes to the Agreement

9.1. The Platform may modify this Agreement whenever necessary, without prior notice.

9.2. The Customer must periodically review the terms and conditions to keep up to date.

10. Contact and Support

For questions or requests related to this Agreement, please contact our support team:

Email: support@daofinity.com Live Chat: Available 24/7